PROFILE

I am a second year Software Engineering student from Tampere University of Applied Sciences. My experience spans across multiple industries and technologies, front end (HTML, CSS, JavaScript, React) and back end (Python, Java, Node, Express). I enjoy using new tools and techniques to build sites that are both aesthetically pleasing and functional. I also place a high value on collaboration and communication between myself and my clients, which is why I consider it essential to build sites that are not only easy to use but also user-friendly.
